With a wide range of tasks that the TL750 handles with ease, Scott has found it to be an indispensable addition to his farm operations. Having owned the TL750 for about 4-5 months, Scott shares his experience with a tractor that has proven to be both versatile and powerful.

For Scott, the Kioti TL750 stands out in several key ways. “The front-opening door is a great feature for easy access, and the hydraulic flow is impressive,” Scott explains. “Comfort-wise, the cabin is top-notch, and it’s priced right for what it delivers.” The combination of comfort, convenience, and excellent value for money makes the TL750 a standout choice for Scott.

LIBBY, WESTERN AUSTRALIA

Meet Libby-Ann from Rosa Broo, the proud owner of a Kioti CS2610 compact tractor. She's been using her Kioti for about six months, and it's already made a noticeable impact on her farm life. Here's why she believes this machine stands out and why she would recommend it to others.

One of the first things Libby-Ann noticed about her Kioti CS2610 was its striking color. The signature bright Kioti orange doesn't just make the tractor easy to spot from afar—it's a mark of the quality and durability that Kioti is known for. The vibrant color alone adds a sense of confidence to any farm job, but it's the machine's performance that truly sets it apart.

Libby-Ann uses her Kioti primarily as a heavy-duty farm mower and compact tractor. Whether it's mowing large areas or completing various tasks around the farm, the CS2610 is built to handle it all. Despite its size, it's a highly capable machine, offering both power and maneuverability in tight spaces.

Libby-Ann explains, "It's the perfect balance between heavy-duty power and compact functionality. I've been able to handle jobs that seemed daunting with ease."

The Kioti CS2610 has certainly made Libby-Ann's work easier and more enjoyable. One of the most satisfying results is the transformation of her previously rough verges into a beautifully manicured lawn. Thanks to its smooth operation and powerful mower, Libby-Ann has received regular comments from her neighbours, admiring the pristine lawn she's cultivated.

"Neighbours often ask how we tamed our previously rough verge into such a nice lawn," she says. "It's always great to hear that feedback!"

WILL, VICTORIA

For Will Wolseley of Wolseley Wines in Paraparap Victoria, upgrading to a Kioti CK4220 HST Cab has been a game-changer. After years of working with a ROPS tractor, the addition of an air-conditioned cab has significantly improved his daily operations in the vineyard.

Will uses his Kioti CK4220 primarily for vineyard spraying and slashing, two essential tasks in maintaining his vineyard. The compact size of the tractor, combined with its excellent turning circle, allows him to navigate the rows with ease, making vineyard spraying more efficient and less stressful.

One of the standout features for Will has been the tractor's comfort. The air conditioning system has been a welcome addition, providing relief from the heat during long working days. "After using a ROPS tractor for many years, having an air-conditioned cab on a small-framed tractor is a massive bonus!" he shares.

BARRY & JOAN, VICTORIA

Barry and Joan Lewis, long-time farmers from Tatong, Victoria, have been using their Kioti PX1153 for about four months now. Having previously owned a Kioti PX1052, Barry decided to upgrade to the more powerful PX1153 after trading in his old model. The results have been impressive, and the couple couldn't be happier with their decision.

With a variety of farming tasks to manage—from sowing pasture to feeding cattle and sheep—Barry and Joan rely on the PX1153 to handle everything with power, efficiency, and comfort.

For Barry, the Kioti PX1153 stands out primarily due to its exceptional value. “The price for this horsepower tractor with a strong loader was just unbeatable,” he says. The PX1153 offers powerful performance at a competitive price point, making it a great option for farmers who need reliable equipment without breaking the bank.

MAT & CHARLIE, VICTORIA

Mat and Charlie McLaughlin, along with their three daughters, are the proud owners of a Kioti HX1301 tractor, which has become an integral part of their farming operations in Glenaroua, Victoria. The McLaughlins, who have been farming for many years, recently upgraded to the HX1301 after previously owning a smaller Kioti model. The results, they say, have made their work easier, more efficient, and more comfortable.

When asked what makes their Kioti stand out, Mat and Charlie were quick to highlight two key factors: value for money and the size and comfort of the cab. "We traded in a smaller Kioti for the HX1301, and the difference in cabin space, horsepower, and overall size is significant," says Mat. "It's not just about getting the job done—it's about doing it with comfort and ease."

One standout feature they particularly appreciate is the excellent visibility from the cab, which plays a crucial role during long working hours.

PAUL, VICTORIA

For Nagambie local Paul Finnigan, maintaining his three-acre property is no small task. However, since upgrading to the Kioti ZXD71 zero-turn mower, Paul has discovered just how much of a difference the right machine can make.

Having previously owned a competitor brand, Paul made the switch to the Kioti ZXD71 12 months ago - and he hasn't looked back. "The power and how comfortable it is really make it stand out," he says. The 72-inch cutting deck ensures that mowing is not only efficient but also significantly quicker, turning what was once a time-consuming job into a smooth and effortless task.

Beyond speed and comfort, Paul appreciates the mower's fantastic fuel economy and how quiet it runs. "It's a huge bonus," he says. "You get all this power, but without the excessive fuel costs or noise."
